

Talk on Philosophy of Sports By Professor Lev Kreft

Professor Lev Kreft, gave a talk on sports philosophy and aesthetics on July 11, 2007. Professor Kreft is a member of Lubljana University, and he is one of the distinguished philosophers of sports. He is one of the founding leaders of European Sports Philosophy Association which will hold its first meeting in Denmark 2008.

Professor Kreft's talk was illuminating. The headlines of the talk were, "how philosophy needs sports?" and "how sports needs philosophy?". The evolution of philosophy of sports in Slovenia was initiated by Professor Kreft, along with the history of two main associations in philosophy of sports, which are British Philosophy of Sport (BPSA) and International Association of Philosophy of Sport (IAPS).

Professor Kreft's informative talk on aesthetics of sports and its relation to art drew the attention of young researchers.

Professor Kreft after his talk answered the questions regarding research methods in philosophy of sport, ethics and professionalism regarding Olympic Games.
